Claim Scenario: System Failure

A farmer's files were encrypted, including accounting, payroll, sales, and crop records. During the time the files were encrypted and the recovery process was underway, the farmer could not process orders or ship crops, and, as a result, regular customers had to purchase their crops from other farms. The farmer suffered income loss of $15,000 due to the interruption of his business. The income loss was covered under the farm's Cyber policy.
